→ if you chose this answer, continue with question A7.

The data you provide will be used in generalized way ONLY.

Your answers will not be linked to your person in any way.

ALL OF THE ANSWERS YOU PROVIDE ARE VERY IMPORTANT TO US.

DEFINITIONS

The questionnaire uses retrospective recalling periods about which you are asked to provide information. Please keep these in mind when answering.

The past 12 months – the 12 months preceding the current day (when you're completing the questionnaire). This does not mean the calendar year of 2016 or 2017.

The last time – the last time when the central activity of this question took place. It is not important whether it took place last month, a year or several years ago.

A household – a household consists of one or more people living in a common living space at the same address who share food and financial resources and agree that they live in a single household. A household can have only one member if you live alone.

Last month's net income per household member – add up all income received (taxes deducted) by the members of your household during the month prior to you completing this questionnaire and divide that sum with the number of household members. Income can include wages, pension, pension for incapacity for work, child benefits, subsistence benefits, income from entrepreneurship, income from renting land and other assets. For example: if the questionnaire is being completed on February 20, 2017 and there are three members in your household, you should add up everyone's income (taxes deducted) received in January 2017 and divide that sum by three.

Vaginal intercourse – vaginal sex, i.e. intercourse through the vagina.

Anal intercourse – anal sex, i.e. intercourse through the rectum.

Oral intercourse – oral sex.

Sexual intercourse, sex – in this study, "sexual intercourse" or "sex" refers to vaginal or anal intercourse (intercourse through the vagina or the rectum).

Partners, sexual partners – people who have had sex once, several times, or regularly over a longer period (steady partners/spouses).

Steady partner – a spouse or a life partner, a girlfriend or boyfriend aka a partner with whom you have more in common than just sex.

Non-steady partner – a person with whom you have had sex once or several times, but who is not your steady partner (this includes one night stands, anonymous and casual relations, sex companions).

HIV – Human Immunodeficiency Virus, which weakens the human immune system and increases susceptibility to other diseases. The final stage of HIV is called AIDS.

HIV status – a person's status that expresses whether or not they are infected HIV.

Positive HIV status – the person is infected with HIV.

Negative HIV status – the person does not have HIV (is not infected with HIV).

Alcohol unit – one alcohol unit contains 10 g of pure, i.e. absolute alcohol. Alcohol unit calculation formula: quantity (in litres) x strength (%) x 0.789 = number of alcohol units. For example: 0.5 l of beer x 5.2 (alcohol by volume) x 0.789 = 2.1 alcohol units.

Illegal drugs – substances that affect person's well-being, behaviour, and perception of the world. Illegal drugs can cause addiction and be natural (e.g. marijuana) or chemically manufactured (e.g. LSD, amphetamine, fentanyl). The questions in this questionnaire concern illegal drugs. In addition, these questions concern new psychoactive substances (e.g. JWH-018, 25B-NBOMe) that can be ordered online, and prescription drugs that your doctor has not prescribed for you.
